Dear General Lawrence:

Thank you for the copies of research reports completed by your students during the past year. I have forwarded them to the appropriate regional analysts and am confident they will find them informative and useful.

I am pleased that the topics we provided your students stimulated research on issues of concern to the Agency and US policymakers, and I look forward to hearing more about your new research program. I hope that the exchange of ideas between your institution and the CIA will continue to be mutually beneficial.

Sincerely,

William J. Casey
Director of Central Intelligence
